- 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-

- 1) The 75 women currently serving in the House of Representatives owe a debt of gratitude to all of their foremothers who broke down barriers, both in their election to, and in the important legislative work they accomplished as Members of, the House of Representatives.
 - (2) 5 women in particular stand out for their status as the "first" women in certain categories.
 - (3) In 1916, Jeannette Rankin broke new ground by becoming the first woman elected to the House of Representatives, representing the State of Montana, first from 1917 to 1919 and later from 1941 to 1943.
 - (4) Jeannette Rankin's first election was all the more remarkable, considering that it came 3 years before women's suffrage was a legally guaranteed right throughout the United States.
 - (5) Jeannette Rankin directly contributed to a woman's right to vote when she introduced a resolution in 1919 to support a women's suffrage amendment to the Constitution of the United States.
 - (6) Jeannette Rankin remained dedicated to a peaceful world, both by voting against the declarations of World War I and World War II (and in fact

- 1 was the only Representative to vote against the dec-
- 2 laration of World War II) and by working tirelessly
- 3 to promote peace during her years outside of Con-
- 4 gress.

5 (7) In 1924, Mary Teresa Norton became the 6 first Democratic woman elected to the House of 7 Representatives, and one of a small number of 8 women during that period who were elected in their 9 own right and not to replace their husbands, rep-10 resenting New Jersey's 12th Congressional District from 1925 to 1951.

- (8) Mary Norton served as the chair of the Committee on the District of Columbia from 1931 to 1937, effectively governing the city, which had no municipal government of its own at that time.
- (9) In 1934, Mary Norton became the first woman to chair a major political party in a State, as head of the New Jersey State Committee.
- (10) Mary Norton was instrumental in the drafting and passage in 1938 of a major piece of President Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal, the Fair Labor Standards Act, which established a minimum wage, a maximum workweek, overtime pay, and a prohibition on child labor.

- 1 (11) In 1964, Patsy Takemoto Mink became 2 the first Asian-American woman elected to the 3 House of Representatives, representing Hawaii's 2nd 4 Congressional District from 1965 to 1977 and again 5 from 1991 until her death in 2002.
 - (12) Patsy Mink secured an assignment to the Committee on Education and Labor, for which her previous expertise and interests made her well suited, and used her time on that Committee to introduce the first child care bill, as well as bills to provide for bilingual education, student loans, special education, and the Head Start program.
 - (13) Patsy Mink gained passage in 1965 of legislation to support the construction of schools in the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands.
 - (14) Patsy Mink established the Democratic Women's Caucus in 1995 and served as its first chair.
 - (15) In 1968, Shirley Anita St. Hill Chisholm made history by becoming the first African-American woman elected to the House of Representatives, representing New York's 12th Congressional District until her retirement in 1983.
 - (16) Shirley Chisholm was a founding member of the Congressional Black Caucus, a fierce advocate

- for women's rights and democracy, and a staunch opponent of the Vietnam War.
- 3 (17) Shirley Chisholm was an outspoken advo-4 cate for equal rights, early childhood education, fair 5 labor standards, and the Martin Luther King, Jr. 6 holiday effort.
- 7 (18) Shirley Chisholm further cemented her 8 place in history when she became the first African-9 American person to seek a major political party's nomination for President in 1972.

- (19) In 1920, Edith Nourse Rogers became the first congresswoman from New England and, when she died in 1960 after 35 years of service to Massachusetts, became the longest-serving Congresswoman.
 - (20) In 1929, Edith Rogers became the first woman to gavel the House of Representatives to order.
- (21) Edith Rogers became the first woman in Congress to have her name attached to a bill, which bill eventually achieved enactment in 1938 and established the National Cancer Institute.
- (22) There is a genuine need to honor these women, and others like them, more often in our Nation's artistic and cultural venues.
